A Little Humor.....

Six-year-old Angie and her four-year-old brother Joel were sitting together during church services. Joel giggled, sang, and talked out loud. Finally, his big sister had enough.

'You're not supposed to talk out loud in church.'

'Why? Who's going to stop me?' Joel asked.

Angie pointed to the back of the church and said, 'See those two men standing by the door? They're hushers.'

KEEP YOUR FORK

There was a young woman who had been diagnosed with a terminal illness and had been given three months to live. She contacted her Preacher to discuss her funeral. Everything was in order except for one thing... "This is very important," she continued. "I want to be buried with a fork in my right hand." The Preacher stood looking at the young woman, not knowing quite what to say. "That surprises you, doesn't it?" she said.

"Well, to be honest, I'm puzzled by the request," said the Preacher. She explained.

"My grandmother once told me this story, and from that time on I have always tried to pass along its message to those I love and those who are in need of encouragement. In all my years of attending socials and dinners, I always remember that when the dishes of the main course were being cleared, someone would inevitably lean over and say, "Keep your fork." It was my favorite part because I knew that something better was coming like velvety chocolate cake or deep-dish apple pie. Something wonderful, and with substance!" "So, I just want people to see me there in that casket with a fork in my hand and I want them to wonder "What's with the fork?" Then I want you to tell them: "Keep your fork the best is yet to come."

The Preacher's eyes welled up with tears of joy as he hugged the young woman good-bye. He knew this would be one of the last times he would see her before her death. But he also knew that the young woman had a better grasp of heaven than he did. She had a better grasp of what heaven would be like than many people twice her age, with twice as much experience and knowledge. She KNEW that something better was coming. At the funeral people were walking by the young woman's casket and they saw the fork placed in her right hand. Over and over, the Preacher heard the question, "What's with the fork?" And over and over he smiled. During his message, the Preacher told the people of the conversation he had with the young woman. He also told them about the fork and about what it symbolized to her. He told the people how he could not stop thinking about the fork and told them that they probably would not be able to stop thinking about it either. He was right.

So the next time you reach down for your fork let it remind you, ever so gently...

that the best is yet to come!
