NURSERY

For those in need of a cry-room, there is one in back of the auditorium on the right. There is also a full nursery. Go through the door on the left of the pulpit and down the hall to the left. There are changing tables in the ladies' and men's restrooms in the foyer.

DON'T SELL OTHER PEOPLE'S STUFF

Matthew and Maria Colonna-Emmanual discovered a rusted metal box in their shrubbery. Thinking it was an old cable box, they simply opened it out of curiosity.

However, they discovered that it contained $52,000 in cash, as well as several pieces of jewelry. Since the box contained the name of the original owner, they tracked them down and returned the lost box. The original owners were quite thankful but equally amazed that the couple returned it. When asked why they didn't keep it, Maria quickly responded, "It wasn't ours."

There are at least two ways we can take and use what doesn't belong to us. Many people steal items and sell them to a pawn shop or list them on E-Bay. The process may not even be as scandalous as breaking and entering a home. As a small child, I traded a bracelet that my dad had brought back from WW II for a cap pistol. I got in trouble, not for making a bad deal (which it was), but because I traded something that was not mine.

We can also share a piece of confidential information through unguarded gossip. This process damages one person's reputation and destroys another's credibility. A minister had counseled with a lady about a very serious issue in her life. As she left, he noticed that his six year old son, sitting on the stairs, had heard more than he should. He said, "Son, if she had left her purse we wouldn't give it to someone else, would we? Today, she left something more valuable than her purse, and we will not share it with anyone either." Sometimes breaking a confidence will get us out of trouble or make us feel important, but we must honor the trust placed in us, because those private facts "are not ours."
