WELCOME VISITORS

It is our utmost concern to worship God as closely as possible to the way the church in the first century did. We use the examples of the Bible to conduct our services. We pray that you will be encouraged by our service, and will feel free to ask us any questions you might have. Please remain after worship service so we can have a chance to meet you.

NURSERY

For those in need of a cry-room, there is one in back of the auditorium on the right. There is also a full nursery. Go through the door on the left of the pulpit and down the hall to the left. There are changing tables in the ladies' and men's restrooms in the foyer.

Debbie, Mom and I have been amazed with the love and tenderness shown to us during the death of my Dad. Words cannot express our thanks for all of the thoughts, prayers, cards, visitation and funeral attendance and food. I cannot help but feel unworthy of each kindness. We are forever grateful to all of you for helping us through an extremely difficult and sad time. Your fine example of compassion has taught me to be even more aware of those who are going through the same.

God Bless You All,
Mike, Debbie & Doy Windsor

I would like to thank you all for the birthday cards I received.

Thank you so much,
Jeff Mitchell

Are We Inviting?

For many of us, the request to invite somebody to a church activity is a turnoff. Bring somebody to worship makes us uncomfortable. It puts us in a bind. It's easier to forget it.

If we allow ourselves to think about the notion for a moment, we often draw a blank. Everybody that would be brave enough to invite either goes to another church or seems uninterested. With no prospects in mind, we set the idea on the back burner.

Give it another shot!

Below are some idea starters that will help you uncover a prospect or two that you might have previously overlooked or didn't know existed. Give it a try.

Start with family. Think about spouse, parents, children, grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, in-laws, nephews, and nieces. Now canvass your neighborhood. Think about next door neighbors, elderly people on the block, families that have just moved in, and families whose houses you pass on the way home.

Get out your schedules and look for people you meet in sport or hobby activities. Do you have somebody that you eat out with, perhaps some single friends, parents of your child's friends, or old acquaintances from school.

Now think about people at work. List supervisors, employees, secretaries, clerical staff, students, clients, new staff members and colleagues you see occasionally.

Next, go through the people you meet casually. Doctor, dentist, realtor, insurance agent, a child's teacher, merchants, service or club members, associates in professional groups, sales representatives who call on you, beautician, people who service your car, lawn or other household items.

Finally think of individuals experiencing life stresses. Include those who are recently wid-owed, divorced, who have suffered loss of job or business, people who have been diagnosed with an illness, along with families who have had babies or just moved.

That's your list. Why not get started right away and make an eternal difference in the life of someone you know? Wouldn't it be great to see our auditorium full every Sunday?!
